Proposed Aerial Coast Patrol Will Be of Great Value in Time of Peace as Well as in War

> Pv ADMIRAL ROBERT E. PEARY Chairman National Aerial Coast Patrol Commission

Although it has taken the spectacular exploits of the greatest war in history to focus the minds of the people on the marvels of the aeroplane, the great value of this latest wonder of the world will be as an agency of peace. It will soon prove itself more of a life-saver than a life-waster. The aeroplane's field of usefulness is expanding dualy.

the very debanchery of science if the only purpose of T. F. Harris and family, the aeroplane was to skulk through God's blue sky in Litt'e Miss Elizabeth Wolfe

For one day of war there are ten days of poace, and even when one guests of Mrs. J. W. Wright part of the world resounds to the clash of arms the other part is a hums several days during Chautauqua, ming hive of industry.

Therefore the stage of efficiency and perfection which the aeroplane has reached in 2? months of war as only a forerunner of what is to come when strong men again at peace have time and thought and energy to fit the aeroplane into its proper place as an instrument for the advancement of and the same of the same of the same of the same

There are many ways in which the acroplane will save lives, and is in tives and friends in Carrsville a position to do so now. There is a way already at hand, for which there Wednesday and Thursday, is a need almost daily-namely, the aerial burglar-alarm system now being advocated by the commission of which I have the honor to be chairman.

The national aerial coast patrol commission was organized last Janu-Will Watch Over 5.000 Miles ary in New York, and now has offices in the United States Coast Surrcy building in Washington. Its purpose is to guard the long and irregular coast lines of the United States with a continuous chain of hydroaeroplanes. Day and night it will watch over 5,000 miles of coast, to save lives in time of peace and to be the wary eyes of our national defense system when war comes.

This plan was suggested last August in a speech I made before the Rotary club of Portland, Me. Although it was put forward at a conference on preparedness, nevertheless from its very inception my idea has been the steamer "Lowery", that, after all, its greatest value to the American people will be the good work it is to do along our shores and out at sea in protecting lives, ships and cargoes, while performing the duties of a military patrol.

Such also has been the thought of all the distinguished public officials and citizens who have rallied to my support in the organization of the commission. This list includes two senators, two representatives, two assistant secretaries, a well-known New York banker, and a brilliant young inventor, the worthy son of a worthy sire. The presidents of the various aero clubs, the adjutants general of the states' militia and the commandants of the el Hill, who spent a few days spent the week end with her various state naval militia are also members. Mexico, and around all the way to Cape Flattery, state of Washington, at the head of Puget sound.

The Acro Club of America—the center of aeronautical activity in this country-gave the idea its most hearty indersement a little later, and it was formally launched at the annual dinner of the club, held in New York on January 12 of this year. Then followed the organization of this commission, to which names have been added from time to time, so that the membership is now as follows:

Central committee, Senator Morris Sheppard of Texas, Senator Hugh. Bennett and family. Charles F. Johnson of Maine, Representative Julius Kahn of California, Representative Charles Lieb of Indiana, author of the bill now pending bether of Mississippi are spending fore congress to create an independent department of aeronautics with the the summer with Mrs. John secretary in the president's cabinet, which is in line with what Germany, Grimes. France and Great Britain have done; Byron R. Newton, assistant secretary of the treasury; William M. Ingraham, assistant secretary of war; Dr. E. Lester Jones, superintendent of the United States Coast and Geodetic survey; Dr. II. C. Frankenfield, chief forecaster of the federal weather bureau; Hon. Emerson McMillin, the New York banker, and John Hays day. Hammond, Jr.

A campaign was begun at once in Portland, Me., under the direction of Mayor Ingraham, now the assist-Cities Raise Funds to Provide

New York city next fell into line with a machine, Washington has just started a campaign un- their Chalmer's car from Ponder the auspices of the Washington Chamber of Commerce, and preliminary sums have been raised just as a starter in other coast cities.

The 50 stations will cost $500,000 to install, it is estimated, and it by their daughter. Miss Asa is certain that a single hydroaeroplane, patrolling its beat 50 miles or more Alvis, who has been with her at sea, some day will see a great ship in distress, and reporting to the shore through its light radio apparatus, effect the saving of hundreds of lives, John Funkhouser since Novemand a ship and eargo more valuable than the initial cost of the entire ber. eystem.

This illustration could be multiplied by 50, for what one unit can do all the others can do. When the system is increased there will be still another line of life-saving and military patrol pickets 50 miles beyond the first line, or at least 100 miles off shore. Add to all this the value of the proposed system in detecting dereliets and submerged menaces to navigation, and for cheapness and efficiency we will have an organization of the kind unexcelled in any other country.

Unable to Learn

"There are well-meaning people, utterly ineapable of learning any lesson taught by history, utterly meapable of understanding aright what has gone on before their very eyes during the last year or two, who, nevertheless, wish to turn this country into an occidental China—the kind of China which every intelligent Chinaman of the present day is steking to THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

United States Can Be Invaded

But can the United States be invaded? It can-and every man conversant with modern military progress knows it can, even though there is something too startling about the thought to receive the credence of the average citizen when he sits down to his griddle cakes in the morning.-Frederick Palmer.

Organization of Industrial Forces Vital to Preparedness, Points Out Howard E. Coffin of Naval Consulting Board

"We have in this country manufacturing and in industrial insolutors greater than those of any two countries in the orid. I e have these resources so organized through an educational can aignthe safest and at the same time the cheapest kind of preparedness we can have-so that half, or in some important lines more than half, of the industrial equipment and resources of the world can step in behind our army and navy, we might term it the greatest insurance against war this country could possibly have.

"In the production of any war materials, a has ridge or at the for instance, there are certain guer . to sat, to suring took and gauges for sizing different parts, etc. It is an bala a made in large part by three concerns which are manufacturing marky all the grages for the country. This is a general stutement, of course, and there are some enabler concerns. The skilled labor employed on this work is specialized labor. It has been on this work for years, and could not be replaced in a long period of time because gauge making is a craft which has griwn up with these الماقاد الم مع مد مدد .

"Could not our industries quickly adapt themselves to turn out war

"It," Me. Coffia continued, "we should place an order in this country for 200,000 shells per day throughout the range needed in our general operations—some seventeen sizes—the concerns have computed the expenses and time required for the production of such gauges in the necessary quantity. They have figured that it would require from seventeen to twenty million dollars invested in the gauges themselves, and that it would require five years for their valuable equipment, working continuously, to produce the necessary quantities of such gauges, also from actual experience they have estimated the length of time such gauges could be used before being replaced. After three thousand to ten thousand gaugings with an instrument of the accuracy required for this work, it means that either the surface must be renewed or the whole gauge scraped, because limits of perhaps a quarter of a thousandth of an inch cannot be maintained on account of wear. This is one instance of what preparedness means if we are honest about it and really want it.

"Let me go back now to this question of how to standardize our munition methods and of how we may best utilize the American industries behind our fighting line. As I have said, some 80 per cent of the producing equipment of foreign countries is now working in the service of the armies. Through our observations of these conditions during the past year we have been forced to revise nearly all our ideas of modern warfare. I am not speaking for the navy and army officers, because they must have known in some degree what was coming. But the manufacturers of this country have at last, through observation of foreign happening, come to have some realization of the changed conditions of warfare.

"We have felt heretofore that with a big army and navy we would surely be well prepared. We have now found that with a big army and navy we may be in a worse position than without them, or may be even yet in a position where some of the pacifists would have us. With a big army and navy we might try to run some bluff which would be called, and when the showdown came we would find that the army and navy were merely the first breaker, and that behind the lines we had nothing to back them up.

"Industrial preparedness in this country." continued Mr. Coffin, "means we shall have to be so prepared through an educational policy that our industries will be in a position within a month or two months or three months, as the case may be, to swing from their regular lines of production on to the production of the munitions required for military purposes, and go on without delay with such deliveries as will keep our fighting lines

The Nonproducers

A favorite argument of the antimilitarist is that the nation loses much because the soldier is a nonproducer. This argument, however, is no sounder than is that of the 'burden' of mulitary expenditure. 'Nonproducer' is a much-abused term. If it means all those who are not actually growing or manufacturing some article, then we must include unnisters, teachers, lawyers, bankers, merchants, and certainly those engaged in all sorts of insurance, in which case the fact that a soldier does not continually manufacture or grow things himself is no reproach.

CHARTING LAKES HAS TAKEN YEARS

Government Has Spent Millions to Make Waterways Safe for Ships.

PERIL OF JAGGED REEFS

Herculean Fight Against Unseen Shoals That Menace Navigation Haa Been Carried on Since 1841-New Method of Sounding.

Detroit, Mich.-Summer after summer the fleet of the Lake Survey sails daughter Atma Blendel visited the broad expanse of the live likes frie ds and relatives in Caldwell and the score of lays and lalets searching for danger spots that may claim their benyy toll in human life and vessel tomage.

Probably no frequented waterways In the world are so hazardons as the Great Lakes. At no time is a steamer few hours from shore and periodically Herce storn's arise, fully as violent as those experienced on the occur, which his text. play with the steel ships, lattering them helplessly about, threatening to engulf or sweep them ashere.

Over $5,000,000 has been spent by and family. the government since 1811 for the prosecution of the work of charting the lakes, Locked in heavy timber hoxes, protected from lire in immense vanits in the old post office building, Detroit, are over 1,300 field charts, dating back to 1818, when a survey of Lake Eric was made by officers of the Itritish unity. With few exceptions day in August, the same old the maps are the result of the scientific researches of United States engl neers and surveyors.

Work of Generations.

These maps represent the work of generations of men who have tolled to make the Great Lakes safe. As a result of their investigations lighthouses have spring from harren rocks, and the solemn ringing of bells on bnoys carries their warnings to passing navigators.

While the work of charting the lakes has been carried on since 1841 with only one break in the task, which occurred in 1880 and lasted until 1890, there is still much to be done to make the survey a thorough one. In fact It was only 12 years ago that what might be called an unfailing system for testing the depths has been devised.

Previous to that time the old method of dropping a weight of twelve pounds or so, trying to keep the line plumb, was employed. The system was far from infallible.

This lightweight testing method was employed until the Two. Then came the heavy 100-pound sounding bell. This heavy chatacle was dragged through the water, a machine on board ship registering the angle the metal was deflected from the boat as the ship steamed along. The bull's sheer weight ninde it an excellent drag.

Imperfect. Twelve years ago Major druggists. Keller, United States Engineer corps, in charge of the lake survey, devised n method whereby a plane wire from 1.000 to 5.000 feet in length, slung from two launches and weighted down, was used to search for shoal spots and other elevations of submarine land.

Today this ingenious device is in use on the lakes and as a result of it many shoul and reef regions, littlerto unknown, have been listed.

Increase in Commerce.

During the years of the decade beginning in 1830 the commerce of the Great Lakes had begun to assume considerable proportions, and the American government plunned a cutual at Saulte Ste. Marle to connect Lake Steperfor and the lower lakes. The only charting, however, had been accomplished by engineers connected with the British navy.

In 1841 Capt. W. G. Williams, who was at that time in charge of harlor improvements in Buffalo harbor, was ordered to take charge of the surveying of the Great Lakes. By 1878 what was assumed to be a thorough survey of the lakes had been made and the following two years were spent in the compiling of documents and the per fection of charts then in existence and

The years that had been spent up to 1550 on making the geodetic or submarine survey of the lakes had witnessed marvelons changes. The flow of population moved westward like a tidal wave and chies sprang seemingly out of the very earth. The five lukes were white with the sails of com-

By 1800 schooners were fast becoming obsolete. The heavy draft steamer that displaced water to the depth of 20 feet had driven the light vessels of 11 and 12 feet draft from the field.

That a resurvey must be made became evident. Provisions had been made only for vessels of light displacement. Appropriations were made by congress to carry on the work again.

in searching for a shoul area ns much as $10,000 has been spent. The work of the Lake Survey has for its object the preparation of accurate unvigalors' charts of the lakes and no pains are spared to make the maps complete. The work of searching for shouls is long and tedicus. To sweep o full square mile costs somewhere a country $50.

Length, seventeen inches. The broad black band near tip of tail diatinguishes this from other grouse.

Range: Resident in the northern two-thirds of the United States and in the forested parts of Canada.

Habits and economic status: The ruffed grouse, the famed drummer and finest game bird of the northern woods, is usually wild and wary and under reasonable protection well withstands the attacks of hunters. Moreover, when reduced in numbers, it responds to protection in a gratifying manner and has proved to be well adapted to propagation under artificial conditions. Wild fruits, mast, and browse make up the bulk of the vegetable food of this species. It is very fond of hazelnuta, beechnuts, chestnuts, and acorns, and it eats practically all kinds of wild berries and other fruita. Nearly 60 kinds of fruits have been identified from the stomach conalso are consumed. Slightly more guests of Mrs. Mary J. Organized and Well-Prepared People Alone Can Keep International Highwaymen From Country's Borders

By MAJ. CEN. LEONARD WOOD ader Department of the East, United States Army

Modern war is fought on a chemical basis and a mechanical basis, as well as a man basis. It is not arms and men alone. Of course, the men, trained men, are the essential thing. Nothing has ever been produced which can take the place of the one thing that God made, and that is man. It is the man who is well trained and reasonably well armed; but back of that are tremendous influences in the shape of equipment and all sorts of apparatus, and the production of these is based upon sound organization and development of

MAJ. GEN. WOOD, chemical resources to an extent never before thought of. You have seen that, in this great war abroad, war is being fought with gas and fire and with all sorts of chemical compounds brought into the battlefield in some way or other. It is very unpleasant to tlank of them. They do not seem to be half as attractive as a clean-cut bullet wound, but they are there, and they are the things we must look forward to meeting some time, if we meet the enemy in the field. The purpose of war is to kill. It is not a very pleasant procedure, especially for the fellows who are to be killed. Remember that it is a great deal better to prepare and not have war, than it is to have war and not be propared. And remember another thing; that it is not the weak nation, whiming for sympathy, and unprepared and inready, that determines whether there is to be was or arbitration-it is the strong, well-prepared nation which determines finally whether arbitration or force is to be employed.
